BRADLEY UNIVERSITY

... AN OPPORTUNITY TO LEARN. *The time to think, and more than think, to learn, the place to study, to explore the established facts—
The desire to know . . .*

*A moment of curiosity,
a fury of incomprehension—
An ambition to learn . . .*

$$d_1 - d_2 = 2a$$

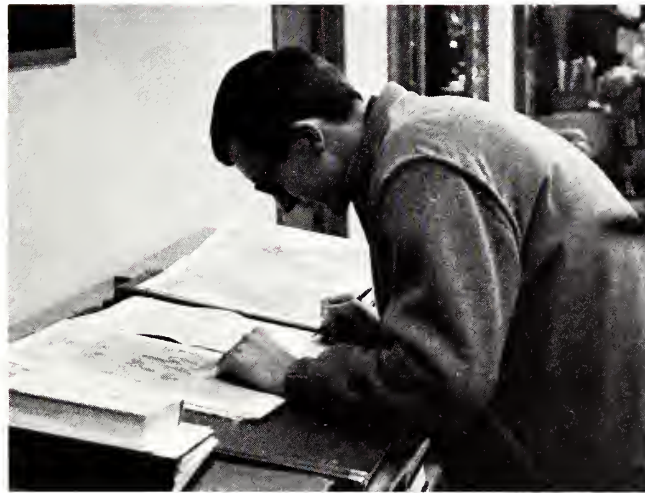

$$1. \sqrt{(x+c)^2 + y^2} - \sqrt{(x-c)^2 + y^2} = 2a$$

$$2. \sqrt{(x+c)^2 + y^2} = 2a + \sqrt{(x-c)^2 + y^2}$$

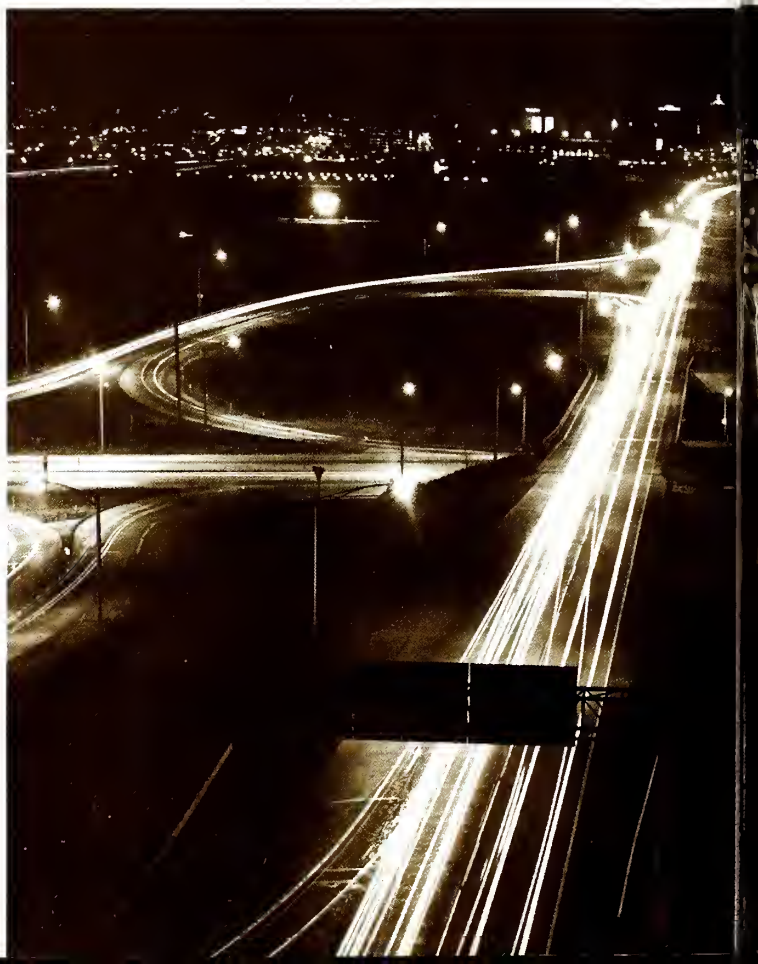

$$3. (x+c)^2 + y^2 = 4a^2 + 4a\sqrt{(x-c)^2 + y^2} + (x-c)^2 + y^2$$

$$4cx - 4c^2 = 4a\sqrt{(x-c)^2 + y^2}$$

$$cx^2 - 2cx + c^2 = a^2[x^2 - 2cx + c^2 + y^2]$$

The activities which broaden the student's scope, the events that enrich his educational experience—

The inspiration to participate . . .

These opportunities are accessible to Bradley students, for every experience can be a learning situation.

President Talman W. Van Arsdale, Jr.

To seize all opportunities is the highest goal.

The University creates an awareness of this fact by its very location—the top of the hill.

WHERE OUR FUTURE BEGINS . . .

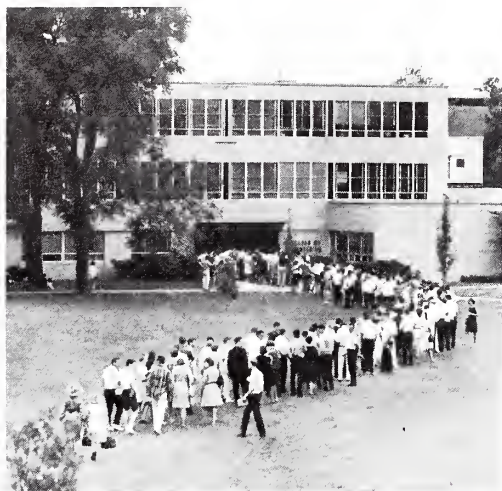

Dr. E. Russel Kuchel, Vice-President for Academic Affairs

THE ACADEMIC WHEEL BEGINS TO TURN. The sighs and shifting of feet as students wait for their REGISTRATION time to be called.

Greetings to familiar faces, evaluations of new ones.

Forms, cards, name, major and inevitably the I.D. number.

Counselors, schedules, the teacher you want, the ones to avoid.

Group requirements, the empty checking account and for some, the graduation fees.

The Activities Fair: join, participate, give.

The smiling face offering satisfaction in return for one's time.

Books, pens, No-Doz, the last "used" book, the din of cash registers. Fresh air.

The anticipation of new classes, new teachers, new faces which lie ahead.

The wheel carries one on—past the naked steel beams soon to enclose more books, more classrooms, more knowledge.
 The mud in the street,
 the shudder of rivets joining steel to steel,
 the destruction of the old,
 the unfinished promise of the future.

The academic wheel encourages one to examine this microcosm of reality.
In the ENGINEERING and APPLIED SCIENCE divisions is found the student who looks beyond his college years to the creation of skyscrapers and bridges
by examining the intricacies of their structure Here, both theory and material are integrated into the mind of the student who will structure his ideal in reality.

The outward expression of inner thought,
the agony of the imperfect form,
the beauty of the unique harmony, the essence of life:
all these ideals are captured in the swish of the brush,
in the transfer of notes from paper to sound—the slight inconsistency which either mars or enlightens the creation in the mind of the beholder.
The FINE ARTS student transfers his ideals from thought to reality—
that others may discover similar meanings in their lives.
It is as if our wheel has stopped for a moment to search deeper into its being.

Bradley both compels and encourages its students to partake in CULTURAL ACTIVITIES. Founder's Day, Honors Day, the procession of faculty in academic robes, the interested and the bored student, IBM cards and grade point deductions, Lecture Arts, the fascinating speaker, the one who communicates only with the graduate student.

Faculty panel discussions, the pro and the con, a chance for closer relations between faculty and student. Our wheel has discovered a crystallizing of intellectual pursuit.

The parley about political theory,
a roundtable discussion of the how and the why of international conflict.

The student of INTERNATIONAL STUDIES must apply his understanding of policy, to be able to understand people.

The foreign policy, the foreign costume,
the alien but smiling face—
these are the tools of his trade.

Training uncoordinated voice boxes
to utter coherent sounds;
evaluating the difficulty, then using classroom knowledge to minimize the defect;
the excitement of the carefully,
but correctly pronounced, "mother;"—
such are the problems and triumphs the student in SPEECH THERAPY experiences.

The world of college is A WORLD
OF BOOKS opening and closing. It is a relay race where knowledge is passed from book to brain to blue book.

The library, the largest storehouse of thought,
stands waiting for its contents to be engulfed
by the eager student.

People learning, others discovering how to learn.
An idea, a thought, an attempt, a failure,
a second try—breakthrough . . . success.

The dikes of apathy are broken,
and the waves of light flood the mind

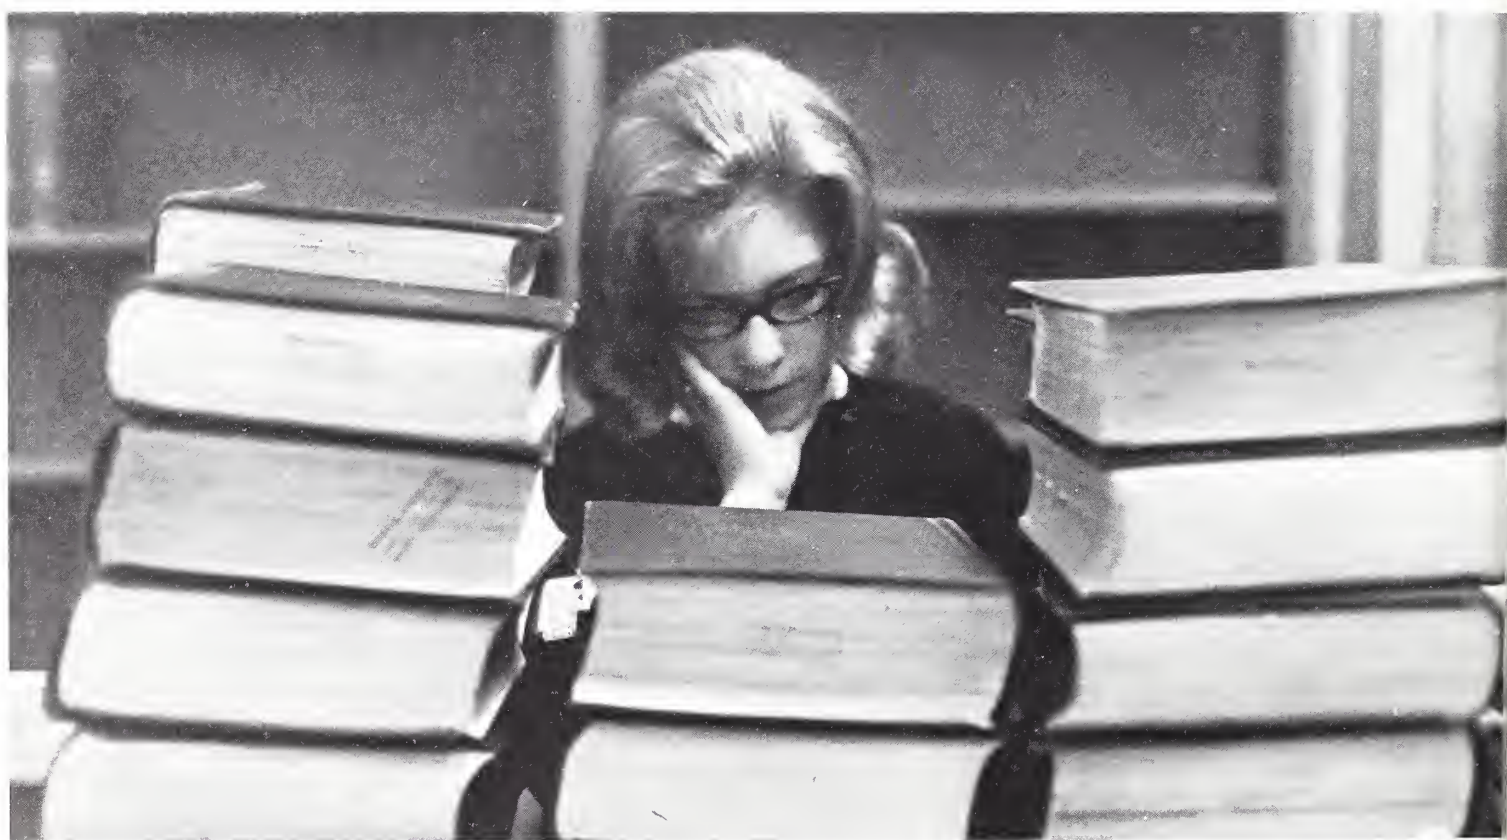

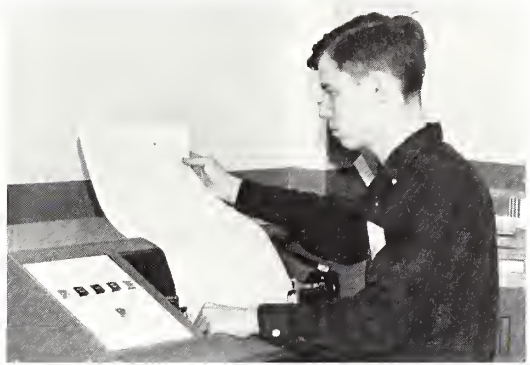

THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS
AND SCIENCES, the hub of the academic wheel, where minds and bodies stretch, strain, relax.
A paper becomes a Saturday night date;
a chemistry book—a bedtime story.

Books pile up until the human form seems to fade into oblivion, and all that remains is the infinite height of the books.

The eye experiences the meaning of “good taste;”
the mind evaluates its intricacies, and the tongue finally manipulates
“Oui, je parle francais.”

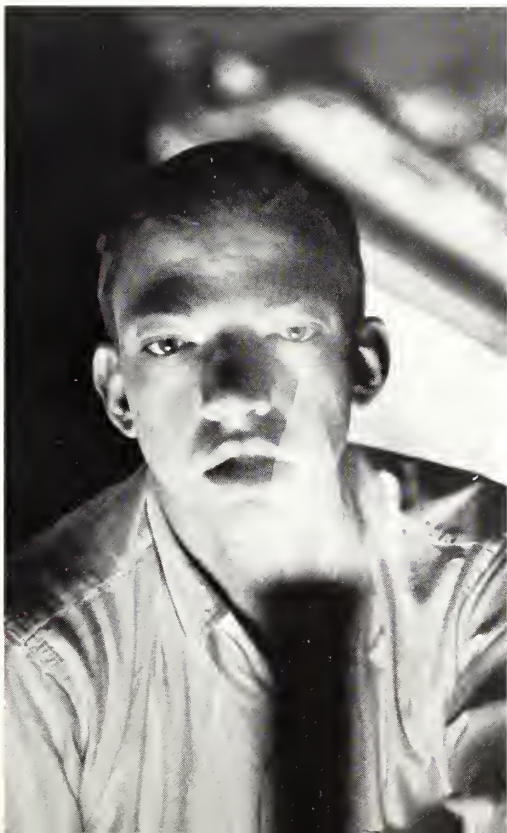

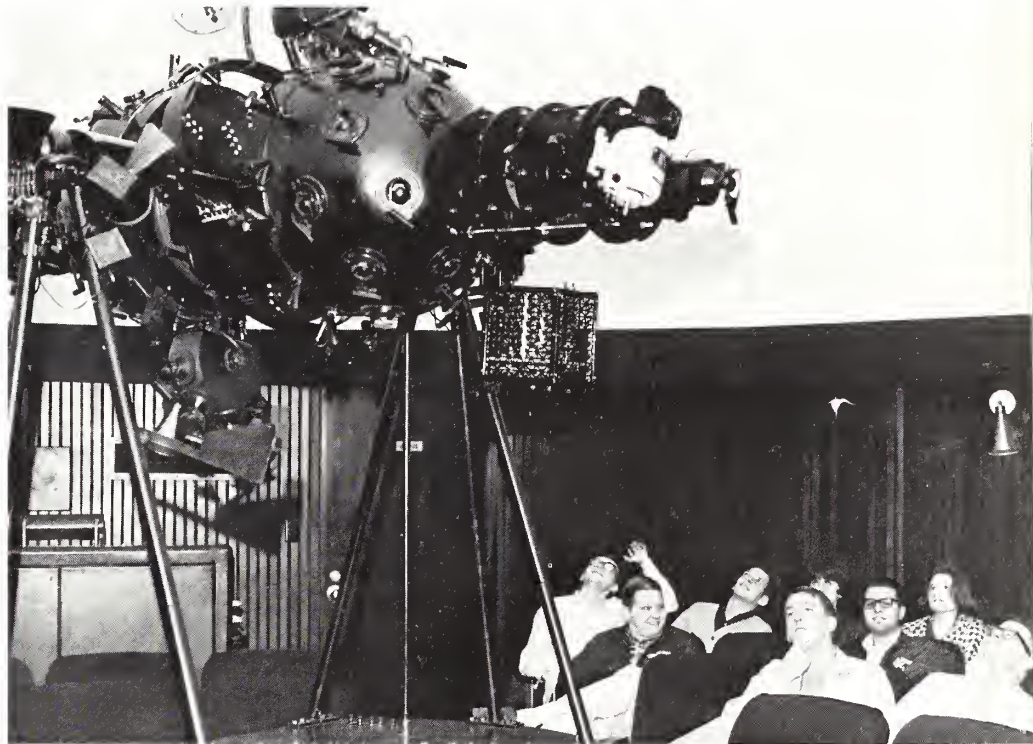

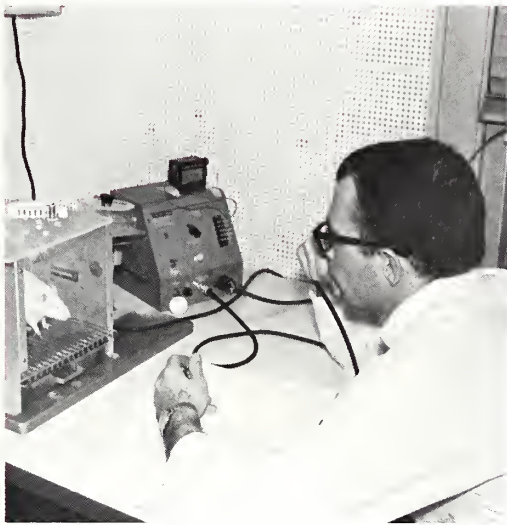

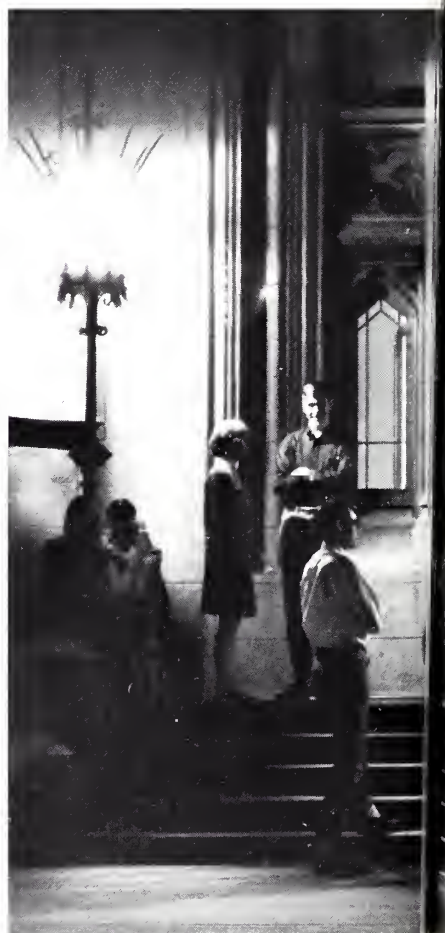

Experience, experimentation, anticipation, peering into the world of knowledge for a coherent thought.

The theory of life's processes is evolved
as a rat twitches at an electric shock . . .
as a shark's entrails are laid bare for examination;
the molecular structure of a complex substance is evaluated.

The fascination of manipulating numbers, observation of Saturn's rings,
the entrancing quality of a flickering flame—
all are part of the wheel of academic study;
each opens wider the door to greater knowledge.

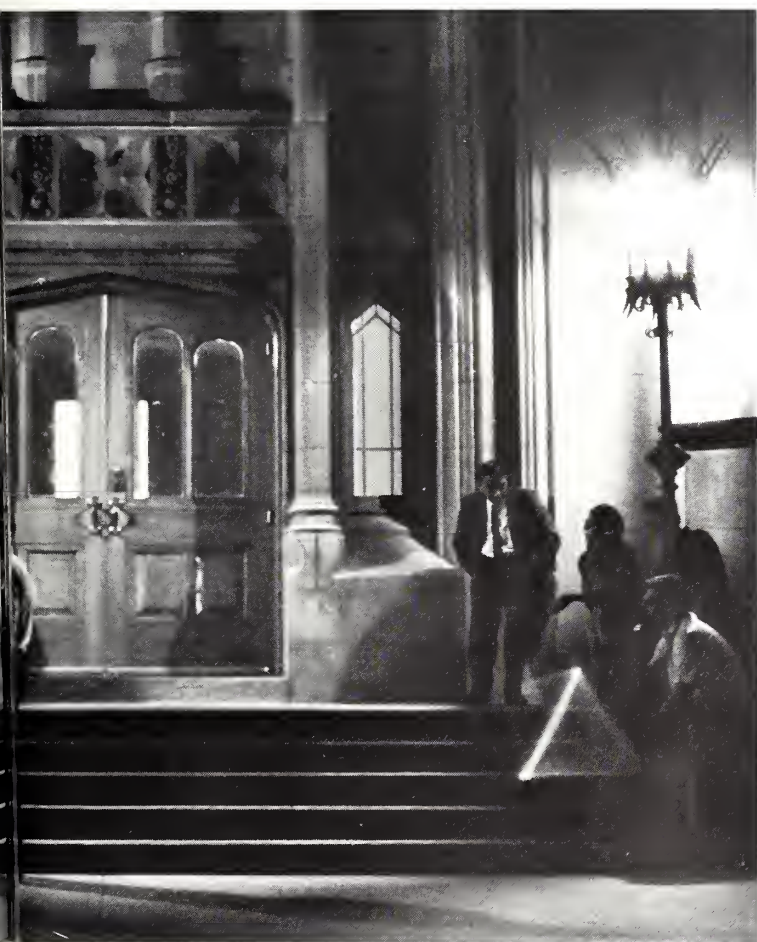

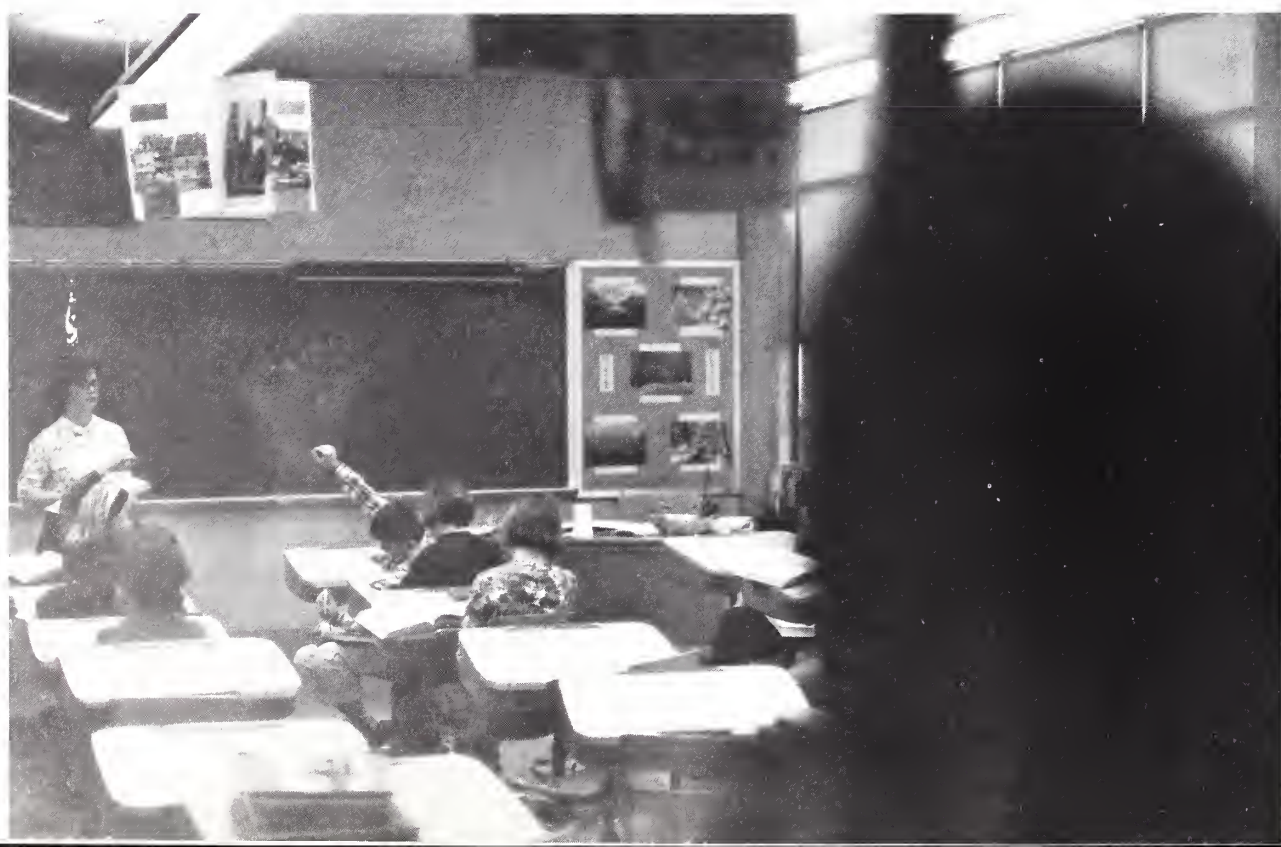

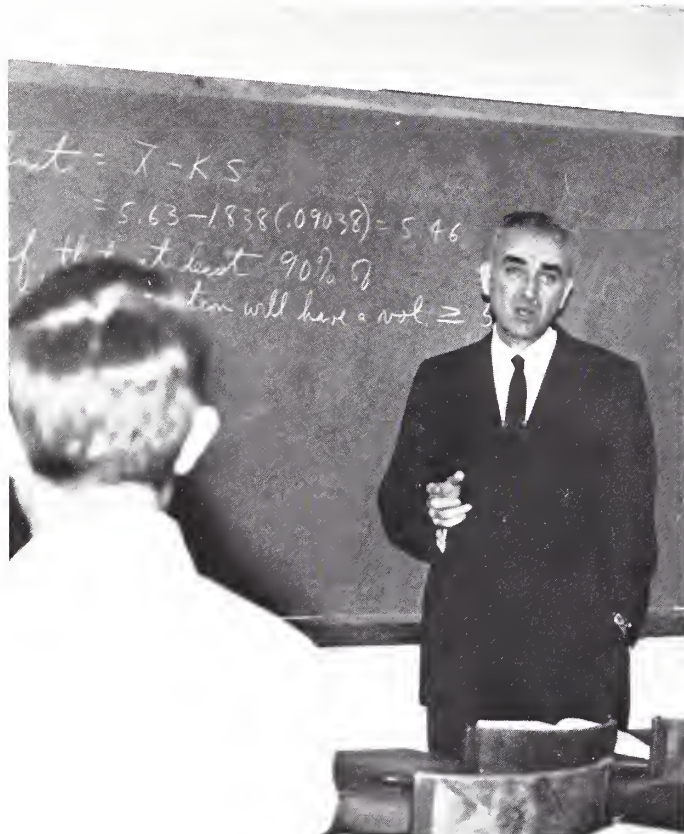

Sunshine on an open book, fresh-air classes, the urge to bathe in the sun instead of a more intellectual atmosphere. An opportunity to raise one's grade point, to do research, or begin a new language—such is the challenge for those who attend SUMMER SCHOOL. Bradley's NIGHT SCHOOL, a supplement to the daily curriculum, the scourge of regular students, the delight of part-time and adult students. It's three-hour lectures, cigarette and coffee breaks, and the inevitable empty seats on game night. Our wheel of knowledge stops not for sunshine or darkness, but continually moves onward toward its goal.

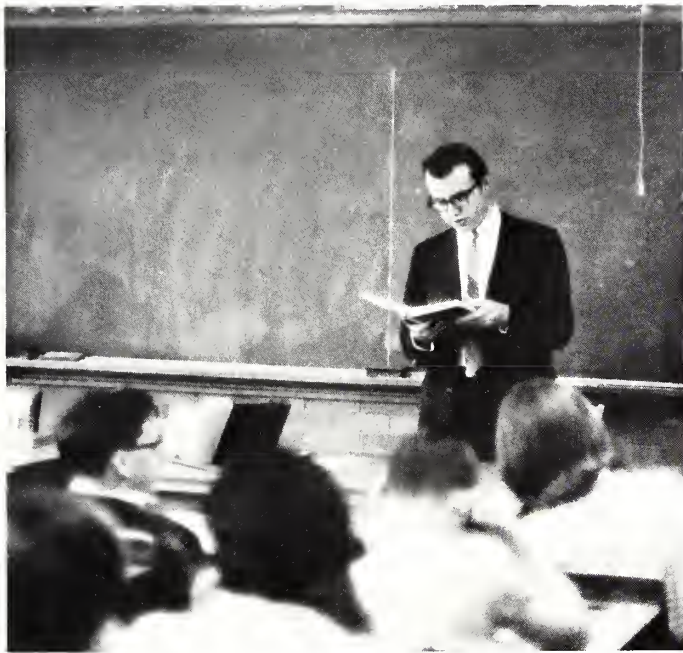

Dr. Frank Gryna—recipient of the 1965 Putnam Award.

Student teachers observing classes and learning techniques from their counselors:
classroom learning coupled with teaching experience—
the principles practised
by the COLLEGE OF EDUCATION
in its attempt to train tomorrow's educators.
Old methods quickly replaced by modern techniques,
learning facilitated by advanced equipment and greater knowledge of the workings of man's mind—
the wheel regenerates itself in its teaching of those who will one day pass on their knowledge to the future.

The doors to further knowledge swing open to the GRADUATE STUDENT. Deeper and more encompassing study is required for the completion of the Master's thesis.

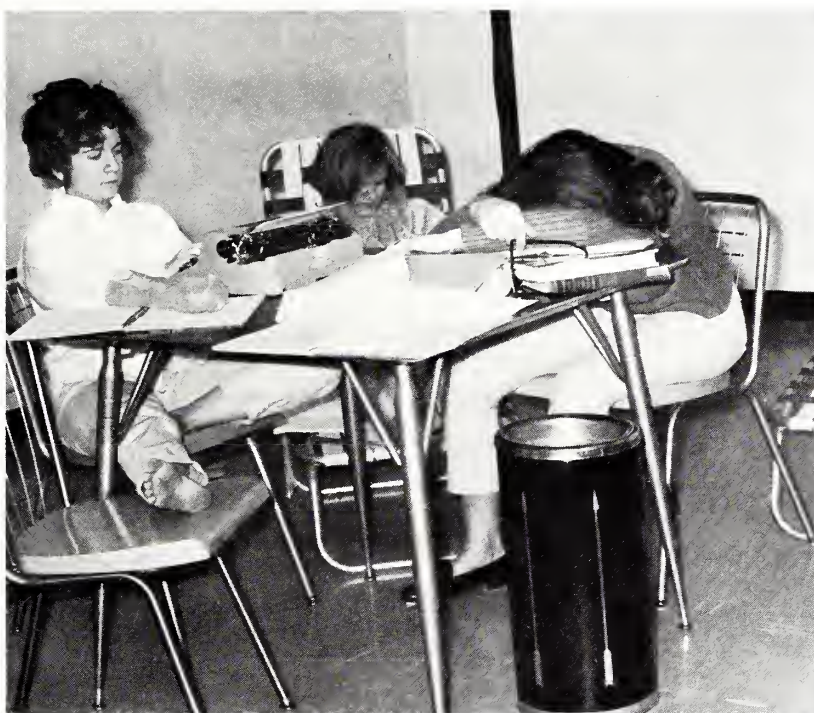

The doors of solitude enclose one in a cell of intellectual pursuit, then reopen for the knowledge gained to be passed on. This study leads one further down the paths of thought, and convinces one to continue.

Enter FINALS. Exit sleep. Exit sanity.

Enter a smoke-filled room that has forgotten how to laugh except in hysterical giggles, one in which the search for knowledge has been replaced by the necessity to make grades.

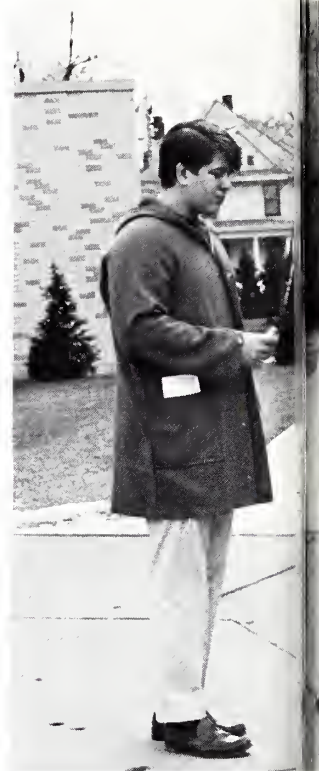

"I've got to get out of this place. The library would be fine."

"The cochlear canal contains . . . where's that bobbie pin?"

"If we study hard we could get A's. Would you believe one C . . . and the rest D's?" It's do and die week.

You'll die if you do. You'll die if you don't.

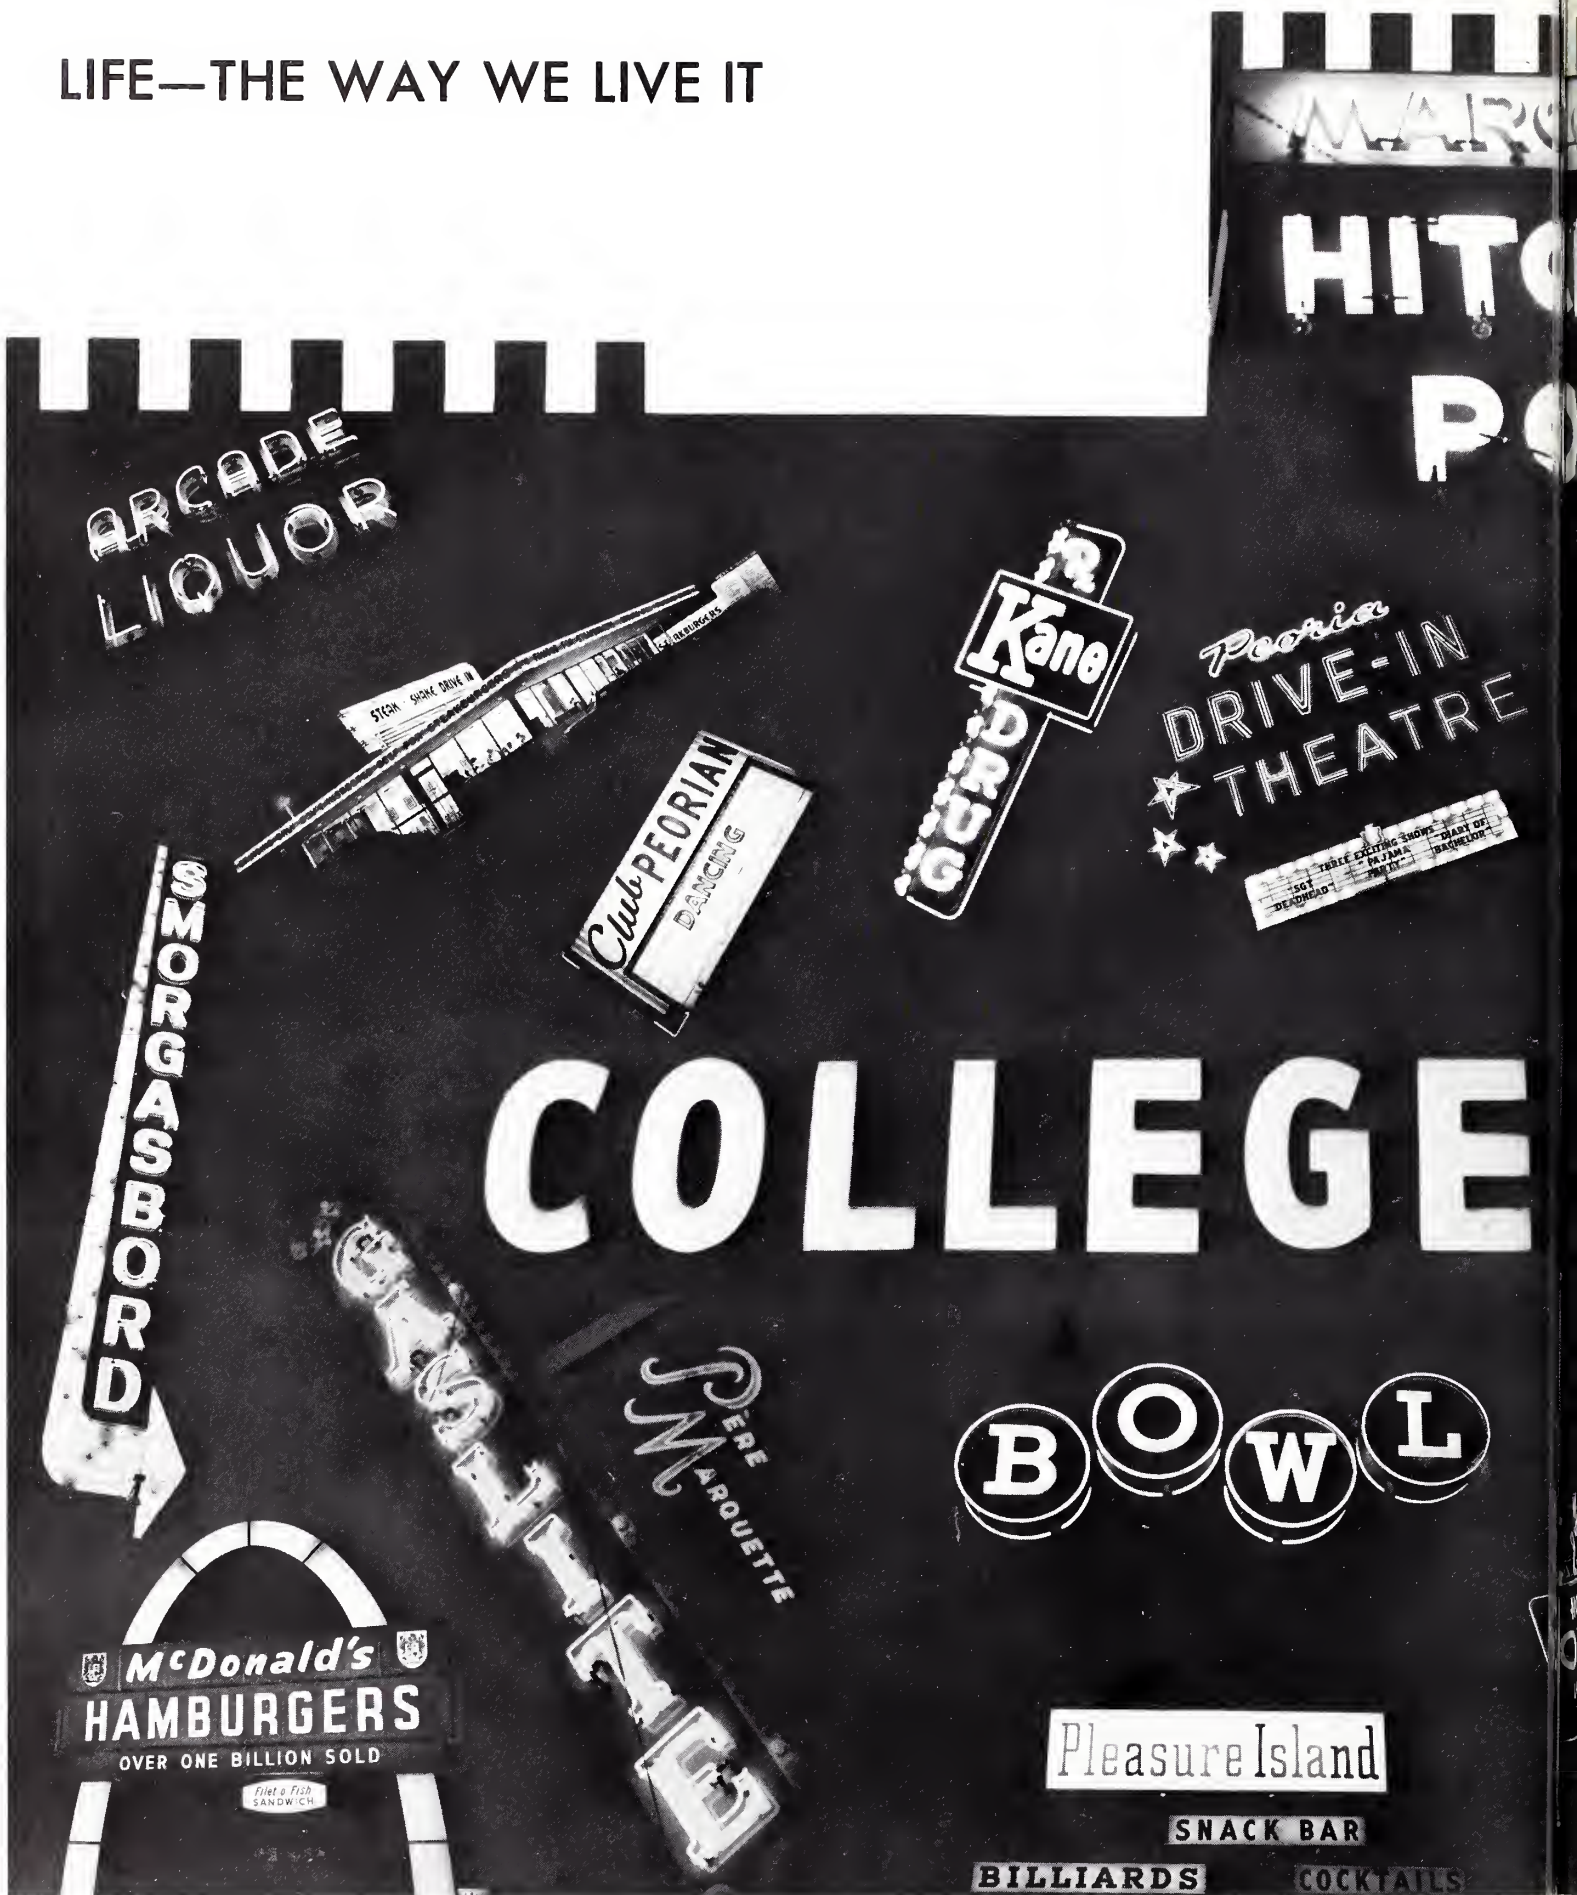

Break time! Time to retreat from the breaking point.
 Two hours—enough time to read 365 pages of War and Peace.
 “Forget those shoes. Go nude—it takes less time.”
 “Bet I got less sleep than you did!”
 Now think. Remember. Define education in three words or less.
 It counts one half your grade. The other half is subjective.
 But it’s over. All over. The semester doesn’t exist anymore.
 Do you? Does he? Only “we” has meaning.
 Exit student. Enter the desire to know the meaning of “scholar,” the true significance of the academic wheel.

A walk in the park; chilly,
 sun-warmed days; the cellophane snap
 under-foot; beauty, then bareness;
 Watering eyes and running noses; pipes,
 gloves, cycles, hay racks;
 Winter at an 8 o'clock, spring at noon;
 Midterms, first loves, first drunks;
 And, finally, socks.
 Fall is here!

The campus assumes a strange appearance as banners grace the Fieldhouse and the Student Center,
 and wierd structures grow before houses and dorms.
 Prof's note weird maladies among their remaining students—bandaged fingers, drooping eye lids, and the apparently contagious "sweatshirt-itis."
 Harried Greeks shuttle between houses and stunt show.
 Long days and longer nights finally lead to the victory cry from punchy workers—"Mutha, we're done!"
HOMECOMING'S READY—WELCOME ALUMS!

Curtains up! Light the lights!
EVERYTHING'S COMING UP CARTOONS!
 Wilma, "the ole' smelly,"
 and Baby Huey join Casper and Snoopy in a commotion to be remembered long after the last line of STUNT SHOW and the last move of the mechanized HOUSE DEC.
 A revival of an old tradition—a SNAKE DANCE with a thousand participants and a spirited bonfire where Frosh discard green beanies, traditional symbol of the Freshman.

*Kay and Marian smile congratulations
after President Van Arsdale crowns Cheri 1965 Homecoming Queen.*

The Bradley Brave sheds his headdress at the feet of the 1965 HOMECOMING QUEEN
 as frenzied anticipation gives way to tears and laughter.
 Jazz with a Bossa Nova beat from Stan Getz—the Friday night pace. An unfortunate slower pace—
 the defeat of Bradley by Northern Illinois.
 Spirits, perhaps non-existent at the game,
 come alive for Saturday night, the dance, parties,
 and three o'clock hours.
 And so the curtain falls on 1965 HOMECOMING.

Mr. John Wood of New Hyde Park, N.Y., was chosen the 1965-66 Bradley Chief of Dad's Day.

Mr. Morton J. Barnard of Winnetka, Ill., an outstanding Bradley Dad, receives an honorary Directors plaque from Dr. Van Arsdale.

Cars filled with clothes and care packages,
Dads, Moms, brothers and sisters—
another DAD'S DAY begins.
Smiles and warm hellos greet Dad
as he is introduced to friends and room-mates.

The man of the hour is treated to a banquet,
a football game, and perhaps a sunset serenade.

And then, as Dad slips into his pocket
a considerably slimmer wallet, the chimes signal a good-by kiss or a firm handshake.

The first special concert of the 1965 school year—the unusual combination Godfrey Cambridge and Peter Nero. Cambridge—the man who brings to the American conscience, through the use of satirical humor, an awareness of its follies.

Nero—the man who brings to an audience a moving interpretation of popular jazz numbers through precision finger-to-key contact.

The sum of the two—a flawless production and clever commentary which elicited a standing ovation.

A spark of talent and ability,
kindled with superb direction,
and fanned by a sincere desire to entertain,
produced a conflagration of fine THEATRICAL WORK.

Three curtain calls and resounding applause met the cast
at the close of "The Miracle Worker."

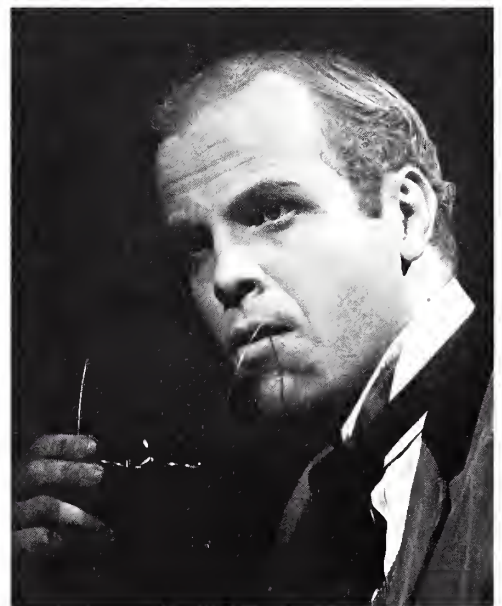

After reaching dramatic heights with the first production the theatre changed its pace with the production of "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mama's Hung You In the Closet and I'm Feeling So Sad."

SOMEWHERE IN WYCKOFF:

One: You wanted a blind date so I got you a blind date.

Could I help it if she looked like a sailor?

Another: Like I mean slacks okay, but bell-bottoms?

Lucky she had all that hair—kind of hid her face.

One: So nibble around the pierced earrings—don't tell me all your troubles.

SOMEWHERE IN HEITZ:

She: Blind date? Yeah, I shoulda been blind. Until they turned around I thought it was a boy and a girl.

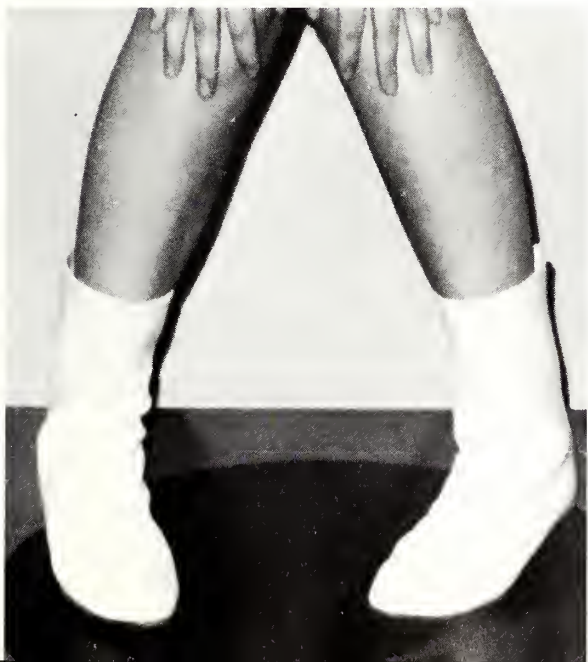

But then no girl's got a beard like that!

He looked like some kinda lumberjack. Cycle riding?

Of course I accepted; he was standing on my feet with those dumb boots.

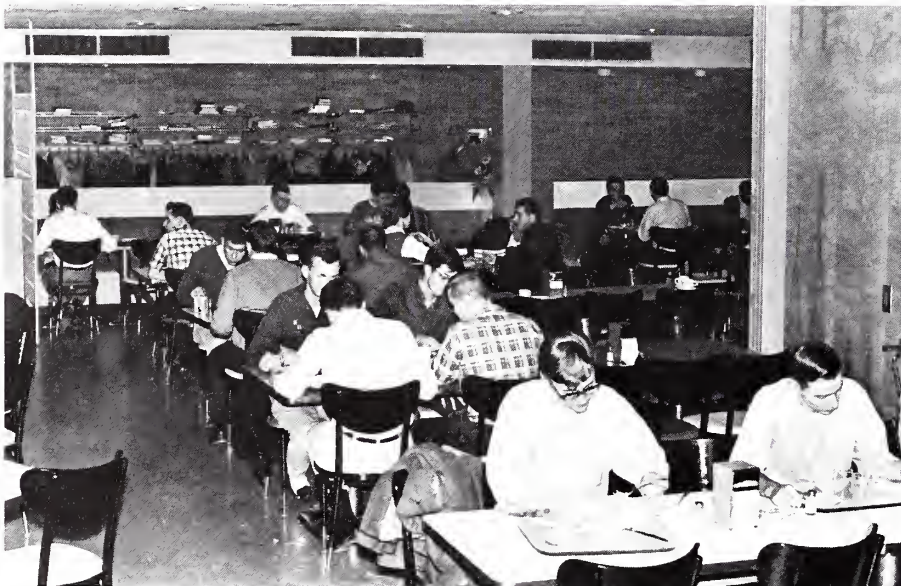

STUDENT CENTER—Doors, pull . . . Information!
 Stairs . . . Climb . . . Listen, now, you can't crop off her legs!
 Hall . . . Hey, has anybody covered the St. Louis game?
 Across hall . . . Despite many objections,
 I'm going to play a number from Bob Dylan's latest album.
 Bang, bang . . . You have to be recognized Senator!
 Doors . . . stairs . . . This program has been brought to you by A.B.C.
 More stairs . . . doors . . . One black, two cream.
 So like you wouldn't have believed it . . .

WINTER came, witnessed only by shorter days and longer shadows,
but no signs of snow.
Idle snow shovels, salt, and boots gathered cobwebs—until Christmas Eve, when only the commuters saw the town
beneath a blanket of white.
Even after break they watched and waited,
but saw only mere attempts at snow.

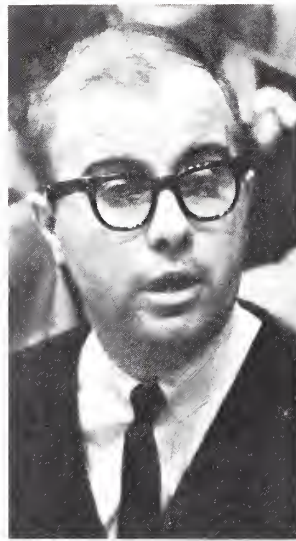

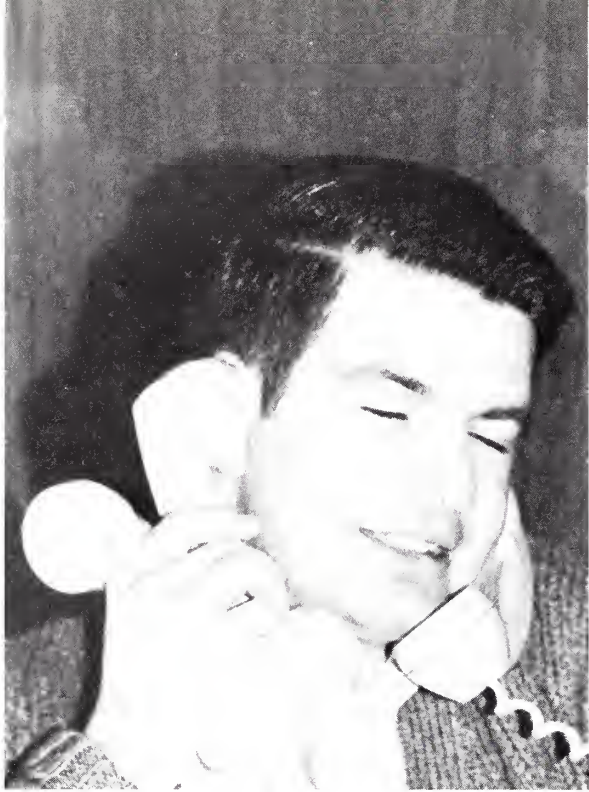

PEOPLE . . . all types, shapes, and sizes.
 All have something in common,
 yet all are distinctly unique.
 Blending together
 at any time in many places . . .
 a couple, a loner, a group or a crowd—
 happy to be together, content to be alone.
 People . . . a fascinating subject of study.

FACES IN THE CROWD—
 each displaying an inner emotion.
 Few will find what they're seeking;
     some may search forever.
 One can live in the limelight;
 others choose the shadows of the wings.
 Some will be remembered—many forgotten,
     but all are here.

Convertibles, bare feet, blankets in the grass,
 sunlight on a closed book—
 each signifies a long-awaited rebirth of spring.
 One is amazed
 as winter-white girls trudge toward "B" Park and return stained by the summer sun.
 Madras and bermudas, class cuts and drop slips, frequent pinnings, and one-way tickets to Nassau.
 Would you believe . . . Spring is here!

"Hmmm . . ."

A red-nose clown,
shy but eager smiles of young children,
the cries "Anyone can win!"
a splat of mud in the face, the surprise prize—
students unite in "Hilarity for Charity."

An auction, a dance,
Queen Charity and King Hilarity . . .
but the temporary pleasures of prizes and laughter could not excel
CAMPUS CARNIVAL'S contribution to charity.

"A Picasso, I ain't!"

"Oh, why not?"

"I gotta get out of this place!"

Five endless days of grinding routine, and then—
THE WEEKEND!
 Forget the past week, it didn't exist.
 Forget next week, don't let it exist.
 Thoughts of classes recede into the darkness of the mind;
 anticipation of the Friday-night date takes over.
 the weekend is here . . .

Guys go T.G.I.F.ing to prepare for their dates . . .

*Like to go to a swingin' party tonight? I'll pick you up at eight.
 Oh . . . you have a date already—well . . . how about your room-mate?*

... Saturday, when onward, ever onward,
beer and cheer prevail.

The frivolity of the week-end
unburdens the mind and uplifts the soul.

As the end approaches,
all try to save every moment of reprieve,
but that imminent day ...

... Sunday brings the agony of the long reach from bed to alarm clock and the anguish that returns with the shrieking ring; an exchange, and only eight hours to catch up for a lost fifty-four. Living from weekend to weekend ... the student's way of life.

Bringing to light what was once latent talent . . .
the exhibition of ability which may begin and end on Bradley's stage or may rise to greater heights on the entertainment panorama . . .

Bradley boasts a variety of talent ranging from ethnic folk singers to straight dialectical comedians.

The "Cleft Dwellers," who have made a popular recording, are a familiar group on campus.

Julie Timmerman and Marty Foster placed second in the 1966 talent show.

IT'S GR-R-R-R-REAT

TO BE GR-R-R-R-REEK!

Name tags, preferential bids, skits,
free cigarettes, small talk—

To the uninitiated, this is the superficiality of RUSH.

But the first handshake from Active to Pledge tops this week of uncertainty, awe . . .

and in the end, satisfaction and relief.

Rush symbolizes the beginning of the fraternal journey and its supporting role in college life.

From here the Pledge grows in pursuit of academic knowledge, social aptitude, and extra-curricular achievement.

"I get MY men with Manor House!"

Textbooks unopened, roll calls unanswered, penalty points, sleepless nights—
all are accepted by Greeks
as a prelude to HOMECOMING WEEKEND.
To the audience, a fantasy of cartoon characters . . .
To the Greeks, lifts, jumps,
sore biceps, greasy make-up, strained voices.
These are the “backdrop” of Stunt Show.
The last curtain of the show initiates their final act
of wire clipping, 5-a.m. stuffing, dye-stained hands.
The commotion over, the “goddess” in the trophy case—
the Greeks move on to other activities . . .

The warmth and spirit of Christmas brought alive by the trimming of a tree.
An impromptu song—the discovery of a sister's latent talents;
the serene beauty of a serenade or a candlelight.
Just a few of the events embodied in the happiness of BEING GREEK.

Derbies, skinned knees, broken fingernails—
 Sigs chased across campus, up trees and off fire escapes.
 Pajamas with queens, pajamas with champions—pledges proud to represent their house.
 Clowns, jails, Carnival booths, fire poles, squirt guns—
 Greeks enthusiastic to give to charity.
 Derby Day, Campus Carnival, Pajama Race . . .
 just some of the many GREEK ACTIVITIES.

PANHELLENIC AND INTERFRATERNITY COUNCILS are the unifying forces of Greekdom on Bradley's campus. The purposes of these two councils are numerous. The BRADLEY B CLUB is composed of those men who have lettered in one of the University's major intercollegiate sports and the women on the cheerleading squad. The purpose of this organization is to promote the general welfare of athletics on campus. B Club members are entitled to wear the Bradley "B," which distinguishes them as winners of an athletic award. A new feature of the club this year is the B Club Queen.

BU'S CROSS COUNTRY team concluded its season with a fourth place finish in the Missouri Valley Conference and a 1—9 record in dual meets. Although the squad suffered some disappointments this year, the future looks bright. Coach Schoof feels that this year's freshman group is the best group of freshmen to ever enroll at Bradley. In addition to this fine freshman crew, all members of the 1965 team will return including record-setting star, Rod Collins, who became the first Bradley runner ever to win the Missouri Valley Meet.

BRADLEY'S FOOTBALL BRAVES kicked off their 1965 season against Evansville with high hopes only to find a bitter 14—13 loss at the game's end. Bad breaks continued to plague the Braves throughout the first half of the season as four more losses were added to the record. The only bright point of these first six games was the 14—6 defeat of arch rival Western Illinois. With the coming of the last half of the season came victory, however, the BU Braves got on the victory trail with a 29—12 victory over weak Illinois State quickly followed by victories over Wheaton and Wisconsin-Milwaukee. In the final game of the season Bradley ran its winning streak to four straight with a 14—7 upset of the Quantico Marines.

Senior Quarterback, Bob Caress (12), moves toward the small college national passing championship as he throws to Wilkin (23) in an attempt to prevent a 14—13 loss to Evansville.

CARESS TO MONTVILLE became one of Bradley's all-time great passing-catching combinations. As a team and as individuals, Bob Caress and Hal Montville broke numerous Bradley records.

As a senior, Bob Caress completed 210 passes for 2167 yds., highest ever for a BU quarterback. In his final year Caress set twelve new records on his way to the national passing championship. They include season and career records in total offense, passing yardage, passes thrown, and TD passes.

Hal Montville, a junior, broke Bill Marcordes' season record with 58 receptions during the season.

GRADUATING GRIDDERS aid football at Bradley University. Seniors have devoted considerable effort to building football in the last year.

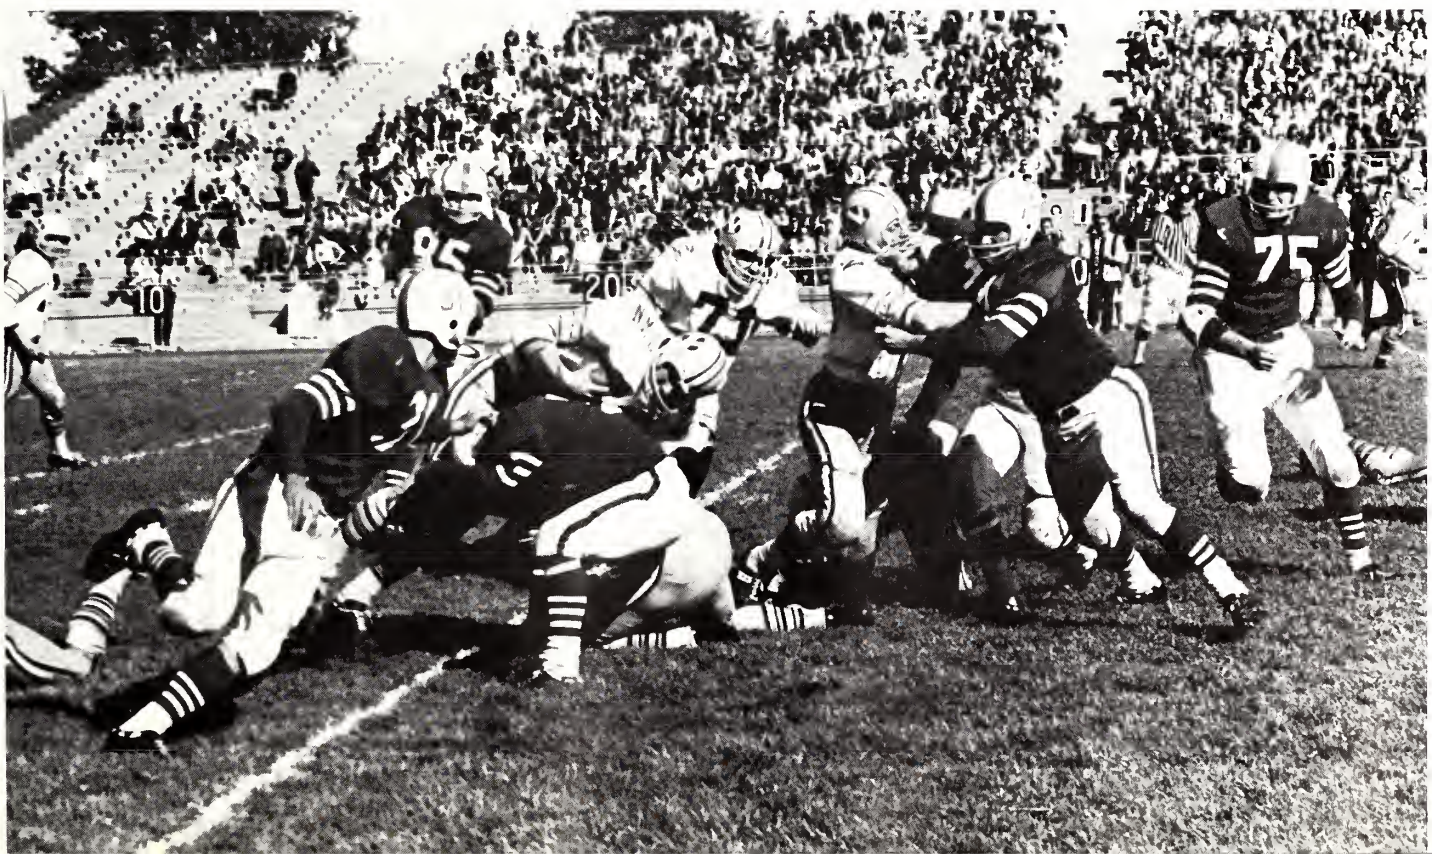

In the football season of 1965, the Braves showed good promise for future years—the building program is in full swing. Although the Brave team of 1965 was essentially a young one, much credit and recognition is due the graduating seniors on the squad. These men were responsible for some outstanding performances and did a fine job of teaching the underclassmen a good college team spirit and a few tricks of the veteran's game of football.

Graduating gridders are: B. Caress, O. Wilkin, E. Bower, D. Tave, G. Meyers, B. Weber, G. Bowers, B. Wessels, N. Jones, R. Dwyer, and T. Celba.

"Well, it wasn't suppose to."

Gerry Rapplean (51) stops line plunge by Northern Michigan as BU suffered its second defeat.

The 1965-66 BASKETBALL SEASON was one marked by inconsistencies. The foremost question in the minds of Bradley rooters was the type of performance they would view at a given game. Brilliant performers in one game would become goats in the next as the Braves plunged from the heights of victory to the depths of defeat. However, press polls continue to recognize Bradley's ability.

Joe Allen (31) was able to "outmaneuver" several setbacks in his cage career to lead the Braves in scoring in his first varsity season.

Walt Slater (50) goes high for the dunk.

Guards, Tom Campbell (32) and Alex McNutt (41) used double-team techniques to lead Bradley's efforts this year.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMANCES by various individuals marked Bradley basketball this year. Pre-season polls ranked the Braves as one of Top Ten teams in the nations primarily due to the return of all five starters and added bench strength. The scoring of Allen, the defensive work of Jackson, the leaping abilities of Thompson, Martin, Betts, and Slater, and the ball-handling of Campbell, McNutt, and Swigris were all factors in B.U.'s success formula. Reserves such as Fredericks, Mavetz, and Berry, possessed the ability to enter the game in latestages to help pull out a victory.

Ron Martin (10) attempts to stop a St. Louis score.

A top defensive player, Eddie Jackson (45), turned in many fine offensive performances as he led the Braves to another successful year.

Joe Stowell's first season as HEAD BASKETBALL COACH proved very successful. A former Bradley athlete and freshman basketball coach, Stowell's success backs up Orsborn's recommendations. Orsborn, former varsity coach and now athletic director, stated that he felt that Stowell, in his first varsity season, was already one of the five top basketball coaches in the nation. Results of Joe Stowell's coaching can be seen in the 120-15 record he compiled as freshman coach.

McNutt (41) prepares to hit Campbell (32) with a pass to trigger a fast break. This was a play often seen in Bradley's Robertson Memorial Fieldhouse.

Coach Stowell used time outs to devise strategy intended to throw the opposition off balance. Sound strategy led to several come-from-behind victories this year.

Sophomore center, Joe Allen (31), gave an all-out effort at all times despite the handicap of a bad knee.

Joe Allen was named to the All-M.V.C. second team.

A thrilling 72—68 win over St. Louis brought a successful season to a close as the Braves finished with a 21—6 record under rookie coach Joe Stowell. With the win over St. Louis Bradley moved into a tie for second place in the M.V.C. and hopes were high with the promise of a bid to the NATIONAL INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT in New York. The Braves did their part and the New York officials did their part, but Bradley's Board of Trustees turned down the bid for unexplained reasons. The campus was in an uproar for a week following the decision, but what was done was done, and Wichita was already on their way to New York ending Bradley's basketball season.

Ron Harris achieved an undefeated season in his first year as coach of FRESHMAN BASKETBALL at Bradley. Coming to B.U. from Canton Community College, Harris directed the Frosh to a 16—0 record by utilizing the talents of such stars as L. C. Bowon, Cal Criddle, and Al Smith. The Frosh demonstrated their ability to function in clutch situations as last-second plays snatched victory from defeat against such teams as Drake and Cincinnati.

Lundstrom (40) and Anheuser display defensive prowess.

The Varsity defeated the Freshman 82—73.

Criddle snatches rebound against St. Louis.

"Up we go into the wild blue yonder" could be the pole vaulter's song as he soars upward on the end of a fiberglass pole in the manner of a human slingshot.

The Bradley TRACK TEAM opened the season with a loss to Missouri, the defending NCAA indoor track champions. A strong schedule once again resulted in a poor won—lost record, but many individuals made strong showings. Consistent point-getters were distance runners Collins and Evans, hurdler Cizek, pole vaulter Irons, weight-man VanderWagen, and high jumper Bradle. SWIMMING saw BU involved in many close meets, but unfortunately, the won—lost record cannot show this. Bradley lost its first four dual meets of the season before finally scoring a 53—42 win over Eastern Illinois. Improvement was shown throughout the season as the squad gained needed experience despite the loss of two key performers during semester break as Rick Bluestone became ineligible and Ken Wilk graduated.

Swimmers' forms parallel the water as they make racing dives at the beginning of a meet. The YMCA pool in downtown Peoria is used for home swim meets.

"Fun and Frolic in the water" could well be the subtitle of this picture as Bradley tankers relax and whoop it up before Coach Spink arrives to begin swimming practice.

Two swimmers battle for the lead as the final lap is begun.

The baseball Braves on the bench outnumber the spectators in the stands, but Bradley continues to win.

An outstanding Bradley hurler, John Hermanek will play with the Chicago Cubs next year.

LEO SCHRALL brings a 263—124 record into his 18th season as Bradley's baseball coach. With more depth and strength in both the infield and outfield plus better hitting, Coach Schrall feels that the Braves will improve upon last season's 10—9 record. Pitching, however, appears to be the key to the 1966 season as only one starter, Ernie Thompson, returns from last year's pitching staff. Schrall will depend upon returning relief pitchers Hopper, Painter, and Coker to assist Thompson with hurling duties. Baldwin and Upton are expected to lead the offense.

Second baseman, Gary Bruington, swings for the fences but only comes up with a strike.

"He's out!"

Ken Kummer smashes ball past opponent for another point.

"All right, what did you do with the ball?"

Kummer and Buente move to the net in an effort to win their doubles match.

TENNIS FORTUNES at Bradley are on the upswing following the 1966 season. This year saw one of the most successful tennis seasons in the school's history. Southern Illinois University and Wichita were among the opponents providing tough competition for Bradley. The Braves participated in three big tennis tournaments during the season.

Welcoming back such regulars as Mike Finney and Tim Sweborg, the GOLF TEAM continued to represent B.U. successfully in various golf tournaments and dual meets. This year found many new faces bringing added victories to B.U.'s golf squad.

The INTRAMURAL PROGRAM, directed by Leo Schrall, went at full speed in fulfilling its goal to build strong and healthy students while at the same time promoting a spirit of competition among the various organizations on campus. B.U. has a well-organized intramural program which encompasses competition in a variety of team and individual sports.

Dave Eymen (32) and Mark Bauer of Theta Chi leap high to knock down pass.

Frank Hagemann of A.K.Psi rips off long gainer against I.S.A.

Theta Chi's scrambling quarterback, Dick Drobnick attempts to evade the outstretched hands of Sigma Nu's Frank Lomas in I.F. action at Bradley Park.

I.S.A.'s Ralph Tompkins fires long T.D. pass.

Two Lambda Chi's, Cooper and Scherer, battle it out for the 127-lb. championship.

Tompkins scores a touchdown as I.S.A. whips A.K.Psi 34-0.

Newman Club (in the white uniforms) score again in a 35—25 victory over I.S.A.

Intramural defense is more frantic than frequent.

Plenty of fun along with lively competition for Bradley men is provided from autumn through spring in cooperation with the P.E. Department. Various leagues provide opportunities for all interested men to compete in year-round sports activities. By creating interest in sports and fostering true sportsmanship, the Bradley's INTRAMURAL PROGRAM helps in the forming of good ideals and friendly cooperation among Bradley men.

THE CHEERLEADERS alive with pep and enthusiasm spark the athletic teams to victory. Appearing at football and basketball games they encourage team spirit with acrobatics and energetic cheers, led by captain Cheri Raber.

Although only seven strong, THE TWIRLERS decided to don new uniforms this year and increased their number of appearances throughout the football and basketball seasons. Working closely with the Bradley marching band, they represent the school spirit which is traditional at Bradley.

THE MERI-N-ETTES, an all girl dance-drill team recognized not only locally but throughout the entire Midwest began to think about a berth on the USO tour to Europe. With drills beginning in early morning hours the girls worked long and hard and performed at many games, parades and other special events during the school year. Under the direction of Mr. Kauffman the girls present drills choreographed by Carolyn Clark.

Trophies are awarded to those teams winning the tournament and showing good sportsmanship and spirit.

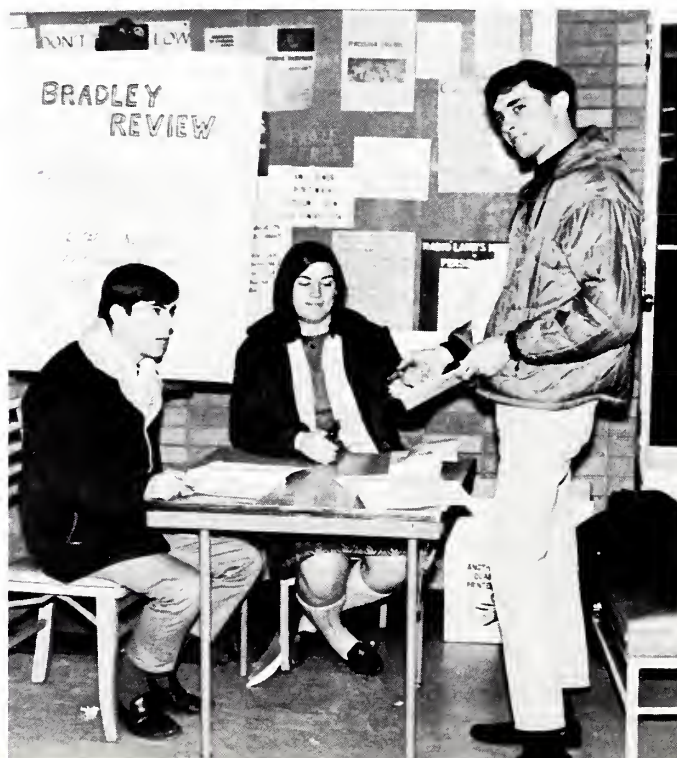

Editor Mike Finney presents the first copy of the Bradley Review to Mr. E. J. Ritter, Director of the Student Center.

The BRADLEY REVIEW is the newest of Bradley's publications. Edited by Mike Finney, it contains literary works primarily by faculty members, and several by Bradley students. The Bradley Review demands an intelligent understanding of literature. It is a demonstration of the excellence of Bradley's English department.

Dick Nitto, President of the Student Body

Every Monday afternoon a deluge of 38 campus leaders convene in the STUDENT SENATE chambers, Ballroom West. The senators are elected by popular vote from organizational areas, class elections, and the student body at large. This year Senate has not only investigated, but has acted and successfully implemented campus improvement programs. Important issues in the Senate the past year include the new health center program, the successful revival of the beanie tradition, the counselling and registration proposals, and Senate reapportionment.

The SUPREME COURT hears cases pertaining to infractions of university social regulations, violations of election regulations, questions of constitutionality, and violations of the university motor vehicle regulations. Justices of the court are appointed by the student senate upon the recommendations of three faculty members.

The CAMPUS COMMUNITY COMMISSION concerns itself with campus problems affecting social, intellectual, and health matters of the student body. Consisting of outstanding students and faculty members, the committee considers and makes the final decision on problem solutions presented through the voice of campus organizations. Students may attain a seat on C.C.C. through the all-school elections.

The CAMPUS CARNIVAL STEERING COMMITTEE, consisting of ten sub-committees, oversees the functioning of the annual carnival. They make arrangements for the parade, publicity, booths and the jam session, to carry out the theme of "Dash Madly to Bradley." Campus Carnival is open to the public as well as to the student body, with all proceeds going to charity.

The BRADLEY BAND, under the direction of Mr. Clark Christiansen, is a familiar sight at football and basketball games. During football season, they entertain the crowd at halftime with skillfully executed formations and spirited musical selections. And what basketball game would be complete without the Band's performance of "Hail Red and White?" The Band sponsors two concerts a year—one in February and the other on Mom's Day. Their activities for the year are completed by tours to various colleges.

The CHORALE, a group of carefully chosen voices, has become an important part of both campus and community life. Directed by Dr. John Davis, they perform at Bradley Convocation and at conventions and country clubs throughout the Peoria area. In December, they gave a concert which featured "The Messiah," and they sang Christmas carols in downtown Peoria. The highlight of the year will come in the spring, when the group will take its annual trip to New York and Washington, D.C.

Interesting, what the gargoyle sees — the campus, its students and buildings, the houses and steeple in the distance . . .
friends meeting in couples and groups,
students complaining, students satisfied and happy.
It happens every year . . .
according to the wise, far-sighted gargoyle.

The modern yearbook is an outgrowth of a senior scrapbook from which underclassmen were excluded.

Eventually, administration and faculty, organizations, athletic teams, coaches and candida were added to the book.

But there is more than this to remember—the academic life, the classes and lab sessions . . . as the memory books grew and production costs rose, the underclassmen were included to encourage more sales.

And so . . . the 1966 yearbook.

This ANAGA combines the traditional with the modern to record another year's history.

And to its staff I say thanks . . . but no words can really express my appreciation to those who proved their responsibility—especially to Rita and Sweenes, who spared no effort in their work; to Bill, who worked so diligently to meet all our demands; to Maureen, who successfully tackled a long lost section; and to all the loyal members of the staff who worked so industriously.

Even to the less-deserving of the staff, I say thanks, for both good times and bad merge into the experience of learning. Another year slips into the past—the present is on its way; but the future holds high goals . . . for Bradley sets the standard as it stands on the bluff.
